DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-5, drawn to a method of mixing a sample, classified in class 436, subclass 180.
 - II. Claims 6-11, drawn to a paddle, classified in class 422, subclass 63.
 - III. Claims 12-18, drawn to a chamber, in class 422, subclass 104.
 - IV. Claims 19-29, drawn to a sample reader, classified in class 422, subclass 99.
 - V. Claims 30-31, drawn to a method of determining a percentage glycation, classified in class 436, subclass 67.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I and II, V and IV are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the paddle can be used as a baffle and the sample reader can be used as an optical analyzer configured for different containers.
3. Inventions II, III and IV are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention II has separate utility such as a baffle, invention III can be used as a storage, and invention IV -as an optical analyzer. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

4. Inventions I and V are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case, inventions I and V have different functions: mixing and sample reading.

5. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

6. A telephone call was made to Mr. Eugene Bernard on 07/12/2005 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.
